The Orange County chapter of California Landscape Contractors Association honored So Cal Concepts Inc. with two awards at its 49th annual Beautification Awards celebration last month. So Cal Concepts received the President's Award for landscape construction on a bungalow in Capistrano Beach and a first-place award for large residential landscape installation for its Martineau residence in Ladera Ranch.

So Cal Concepts President David Horton said he thinks his company's construction on the Martineau residence was selected because its landscape with succulents, grasses and stone work matches the California old mission-like architecture of the area.

There is a lot of effort put into installing things correctly and following the blueprint, whether it is for installing drainage systems or sprinklers, he said.

The association honored two Irvine properties with awards. Marina Landscape Inc. of Anaheim received an award in the commercial water conservation category for its work at the FDA building on Fairchild Road. Marc Mason Landscape Services of Costa Mesa received an award in the medium residential landscape renovation category for the White residence on Rutherford.
